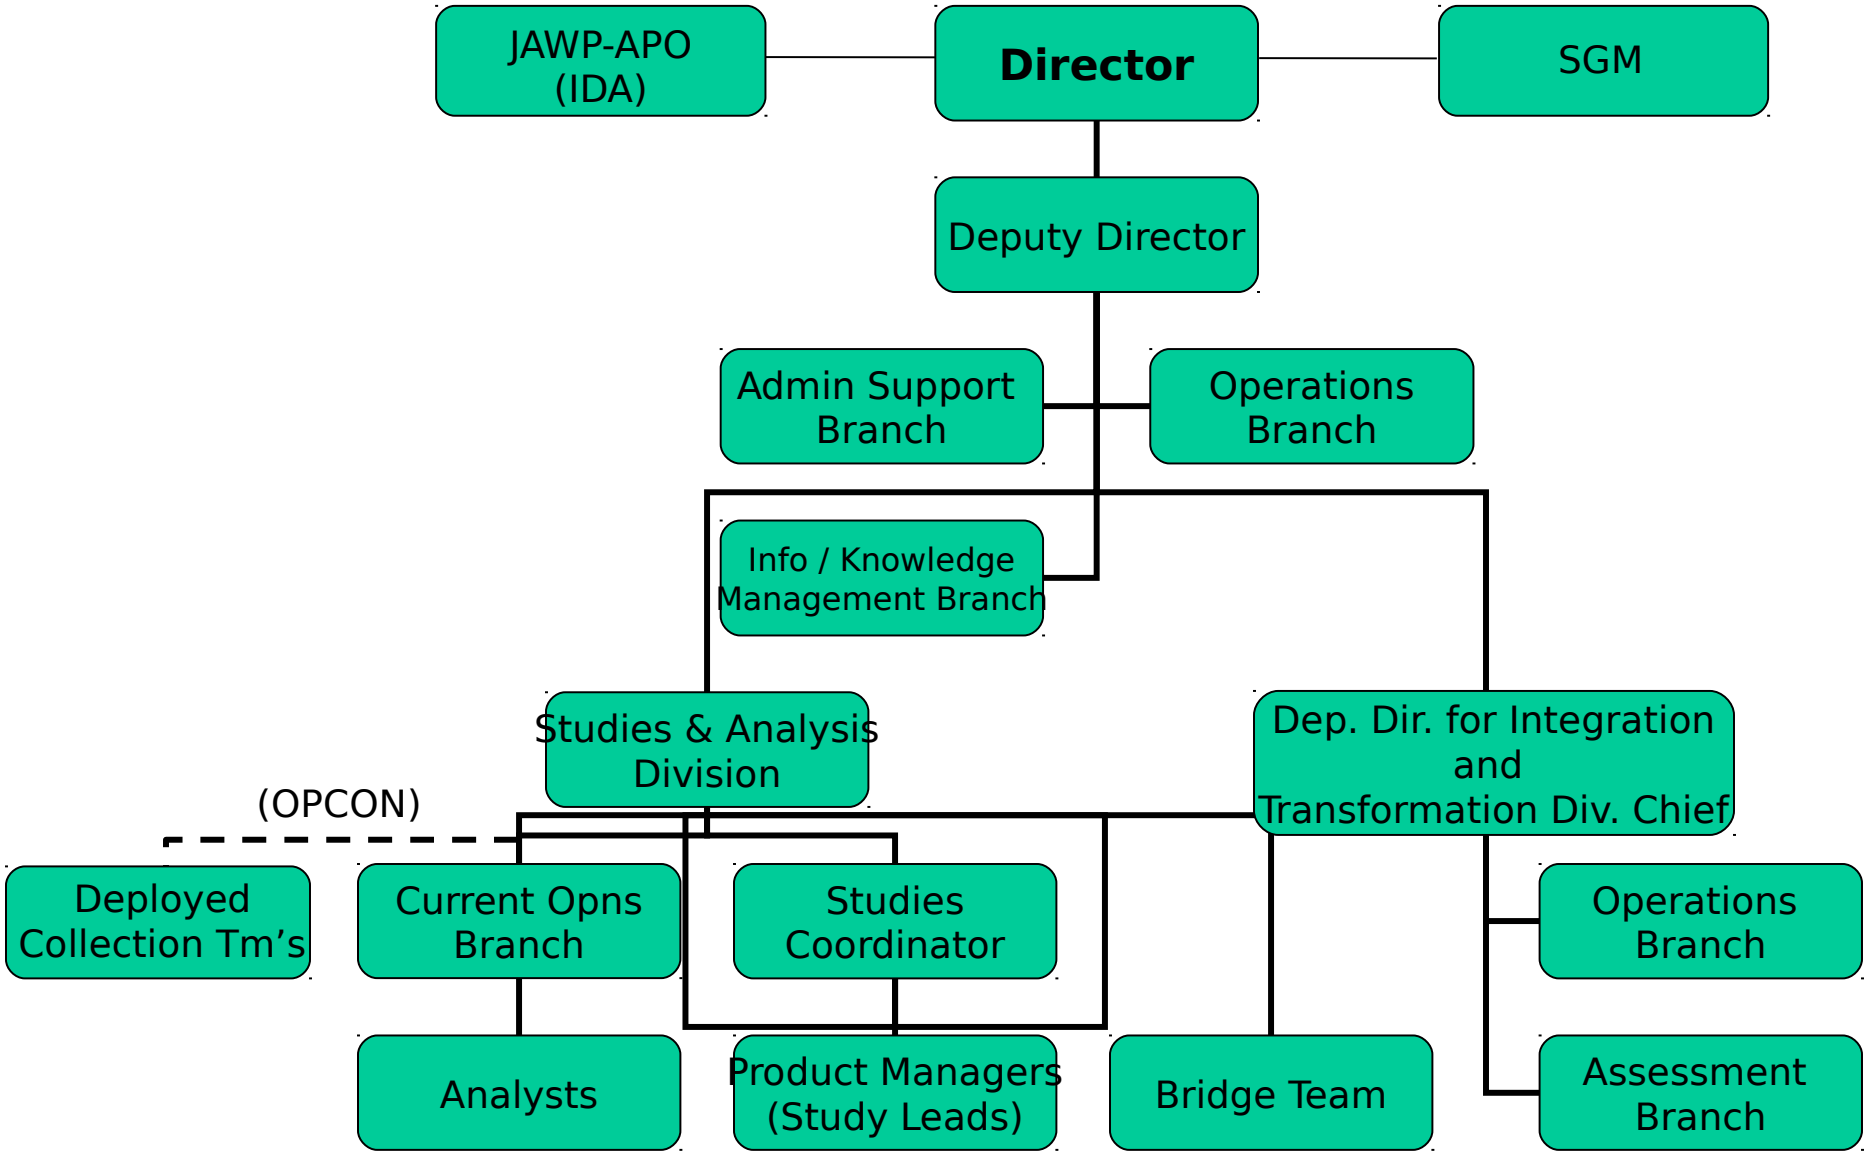
- Perceptions
- Dealing with Perceptions

The JFCOM/JCOA Role under CJCSI 3150.25B

- Support the CJCS and Joint Staff J7 in the execution of Joint Lessons Learned Program
- Conduct active collection
- Integrate joint operational and interoperability observations, findings, and recommendations
- Incorporate findings into the issue resolution process (JCIDS, JRAC, etc.)
- Provide support for mission rehearsals, joint training/exercise activities, experimentation, and JNTC activities . . . support the warfighter
- Implement the collaborative technology solution for sharing joint lesson observations, findings, and lessons learned across the joint force

JCOA Organization



What's in a Name?

Major Combat Operations (MCO) becomes:

Iraq, March 2003 to May 2003:

Joint Combined Combat Operations (JCCO)

Post Major Combat Operations (PMCO) Volume I becomes:

Iraq, June 2003 to June 2004:

Stabilization, Security, Transition & Reconstruction (SSTR)

Perceptions

- This is what I'm hearing and sensing:
  - "They support JFCOM, not the joint community"
  - "They're a blackhole of lessons learned information"
  - "They're just sales and advertising for JFCOM good ideas . . . and technology"
  - "You create briefs/papers/reports without external coordination . . ."
  - "Oh, so you're the Admiral's spy . . ."

Dealing with Perceptions

- Current plan to “hang” products on JCOA website
- Information sharing initiative
  - Respect for the term Originator Control classification (ORCON)
- IWS sessions, usage
- Deployment opportunity with JCOA
- Greater involvement integrating lessons in training for current ops and experiments

Develop and Sustain Access, Help, and Sharing

- Current Capability
  - Joint Digital Library System
  - Separating data
  - dBase access available 30 June 05 through Joint Digital Library System (JDLS)
- Future Capability
  - Robust search and content management capability (Verity K2 and Documentum)
  - Distribute licenses
  - Full use of capabilities
